AN UNEXPECTED REUNION OF STAR-CROSSED LOVERS TOPS THE MENU AT 'LOVE STRUCK CAFÉ,' NEW, ORIGINAL MOVIE PREMIERING OCTOBER 14, ON HALLMARK CHANNEL

Sarah Jane Morris and Andrew W. Walker Star

STUDIO CITY, CA –September 23, 2017– An ambitious young woman returns to the small town she grew up in to close a deal and comes face to face with her soulmate, the guy she always knew she was destined to be with, who broke up with her 12 years before, in "Love Struck Café," airing as part of Hallmark Channel's Fall Harvest and premiering Saturday, October 14, (9 p.m. ET/PT). The film stars Sarah Jane Morris ("Brothers & Sisters") and Andrew W. Walker ("When Calls the Heart").

Megan Quinn (Morris) returns to her small hometown to close a land deal for her demanding boss, her success certain to earn her the opportunity to fulfill her dream and work as an architect. When an accident puts her dad out of commission, Megan pitches in at family-owned Rosie's Café and soon runs into handsome young widower and single dad Joe Wainwright (Walker), her first love and the guy who broke up with her 12 years ago with no explanation whatsoever. Now, Megan wants Joe's help to close the land deal but spending time together again brings back old feelings of love and regret as the flame that once burned so brightly between them is rekindled. And as Megan grows closer to Joe's daughter Lily (Cassidy Nugent) while the town's Apple Festival is in full swing, she must come up with a compromise that will close the land deal and figure out how to resolve her feelings towards Joe.
