Jess Waters (Drew) is an accomplished violinist who has lost her passion for music and has been invited to perform at the Vienna Music Hall's prestigious Christmas Eve concert. Mark Olson (Elliott) is a diplomat in Vienna and a widowed father of three whose job is constantly keeping them moving. Jess arrives in Vienna two weeks before her show, which gives her time to visit her friend Tori Voigt (Alina Fritsch, "Freud"). Teri is Mark's cousin and the children's nanny so when Tori gets a chance to sell her crafts in a Christmas market, she asks for Jess' help with the children. Although initially hesitant, Jess quickly bonds with the children, helping them grow as they inspire her rediscovery for her love of music. Against the backdrop of Christmas magic and romance, will Jess and Mark find a way to be together?

"Christmas in Vienna" is produced by Vienna Christmas, Inc. David Wulf is producer. Maclain Nelson directed from a script by Elizabeth Joie Botkin.
