STUDIO CITY, CA – January 22, 2021 – In a dual role, Jeremy Jordan (Joyful Noise, "Smash") stars with Jessica Lowndes ("Over the Moon in Love," "90210") in "Mix Up in the Mediterranean," a new, original movie premiering Saturday, February 20 (9 p.m. ET/PT), on Hallmark Channel as part of the network's "Love Ever After" programming event.

Josh (Jordan) is content in his small Alaska hometown, cooking at the diner his parents once owned and dreaming of the day when he can take it over again. But when his twin-brother, acclaimed big-city chef Julian (Jordan), injures himself, Josh agrees to pretend to be Julian in order to compete in one of the most elite culinary competitions in the world. There he meets Meg (Lowndes), the ambitious organizer of the contest who is eager to prove herself with her first big event. Feelings start to develop between them, but the situation is complicated by the fact that Meg thinks Josh is his brother Julian, who is married.

"Mix Up in the Mediterranean" is from Leif Films Media & Tetrad Productions. Leif Bristow, Rick Garman and Danny Webber are executive producers. Colin Azzopardi, Agnes Bristow and Borga Dorteris serve as producers. Jonathan Wright directed from a script by Julie Kim and Kariné Marwood.
