STUDIO CITY, CA – March 23, 2021 – Danica McKellar (“The Wonder Years,” “Christmas at Dollywood”) returns as professional matchmaker Angie Dove in “MatchMaker Mysteries: The Art of the Kill,” a new original premiering Sunday, April 18 (8 p.m. ET/PT), on Hallmark Movies & Mysteries. Bruce Boxleitner (TRON: Legacy, “Scarecrow and Mrs. King”) returns as Angie’s father, Nick Columba, in the third installment of the Signature Mystery franchise.

Once again, celebrity matchmaker-turned amateur sleuth Angie Dove (McKellar) finds herself in the middle of another murder, this time at the same museum where her father, retired police detective Nick Columba (Boxleitner) is working a petty theft case. The victim, Clinton Jennings (Mark Tyler Krysko, “Darrow & Darrow”) was a noted archaeologist hired by the museum to authenticate provenances for recent acquisitions of Etruscan statues. As Det. Kyle Carter (Webster) investigates the death, Angie unofficially participates in the investigation by using her keen observational skills and ability to observe human behavior to help unearth the truth and lead Det. Carter to the culprit.

“MatchMaker Mysteries: The Art of the Kill” is from Two 4 The Money Media. Executive producers are Kim Arnott, Ivan Hayden, Danica McKellar, Michael Elliott, David Mackay, Suzanne Arnott, Michael Shepard, Patti Stanger and Lance Robbins. John Prince serves as producer.
